DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 7, it is not clear what "the other end" is referring to. The geometry of the handle is not clear defined to define "the other end".

Further, claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: lines 7-11 of the claim merely recite "a leaf spring". There is not sufficient information as how the "leaf spring structure is used for disengaging said handle from said case". The structural relationship between the spring, the case, and the frame is unclear. The invention as claimed cannot be understood structurally and functionally.

Note similar errors in claim 16 lines 8-13.

In claim 2, line 9, "two side pieces separately connected to..." cannot be understood. What is meant by "separately connected to"?

In claim 15, line 3, it cannot be understood what "said backside piece" and "said two side pieces" are referring to and how these pieces are structurally related to claims 14, 12 and 1.

In claim 16, line 5, "and further and further" should be "and further".

In claim 17, line 4, "13" is not understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 3-5, and 12-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mueller (6,185,106).

Mueller shows a case (230, 340), a frame (350) with protrusion (251), a handle having a stem (210), engaging portion (221), a leaf spring (215, 245), connecting portion (320), first protruding portion (217), a pressing portion (contact portion with spring 245), and opening (231).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mueller '106 in view of Cromwell (5,926,370).

'106 discloses the invention as claimed but for a handle symmetrically connected to the case. '370 teaches two handles (11) symmetrically connected to the case to guide, position and stabilize the sliding and positioning the case within the frame. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the handle of '106 with a second handle symmetrically connected to the case to stabilize the sliding and positioning of the case within the frame.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2, 7-11, 15, 17 and 18 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
